

AP Physics C Canvas Summer Course

A summer course for AP Physics C has been set-up on Canvas. As of now, the summer assignment has been posted and any other assignments or course information will be shared via this Canvas course. (The summer assignment is also posted on Jericho's website.) This Canvas course will also enable individualized or small group extra help opportunities and discussions regarding anything about the summer assignment or the actual 2020-2021 AP Physics C course. Students can enroll themselves in the Canvas course using the following link:

If you have any questions, you can contact me over the summer though Canvas but the easiest and quickest way would be through my home email at physixchick@aol.com.

Enjoy your summer!
